

August 27-30, 2013, Paris, Cancers of the esophagus From normal mucosa to tumor

One, single subject, examined in all its angles during 4 full days, bringing in all disciplines concerned, clinical as well as fundamental.

www.oeso.org

International Agency for Research on Cancer
World Health Organization
UNESCO
United Nations
Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization

In cooperation with

Académie Nationale Française de Chirurgie, Paris
Central Scientific Research Institute of Gastroenterology, Moscow
Deutsches Krebsforschung Zentrum, Heidelberg
Institut Mutualiste Montsouris, Paris
Institut National du Cancer
MD Anderson Cancer Center, Houston
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, New York
National Cancer Institute, Bethesda
National Cancer Research Institute, Tokyo
N.N. Blokhin Russian Cancer Research Center, Moscow

12th World Conference
Cancers of the Esophagus
From normal mucosa to tumor
Translating knowledge into cure

Paris, UNESCO Headquarters
August 27-30, 2013

www.oeso.org

Presidents: Richard G.H. COTTON (Melbourne) – Brice GAYET (Paris) – George TRIADAFILOPOULOS (Stanford)

Presidents of the Organizing Committee: Ernest T. HAWK (Houston) – Eric Van CUTSEM (Leuven)

August 27: Special Invited Lecture: Prof. Andrew W. LO, MIT (Massachusetts Institute of Technology)

“How financial engineering can cure cancer”

August 28: Grand forum 1 – Lecture by Christopher P. WILD (Director, IARC, Lyons)

“Esophageal cancer across the Globe in 2013”

August 28: Grand forum 1 – Lecture by Ernest T. HAWK (MD Anderson Cancer Center, Houston)

“Opportunities to reduce the burden of Barrett’s esophagus and esophageal cancer”

The program will encourage your interest in this event,

- Endoscopy, esophagology, French cuisine and culture meet under the Parisian summer sky on August 27-30, 2013, in Paris, France.

- One, single topic, “Cancers of the esophagus: From normal mucosa to tumor” will be examined in all its angles during 4 full days, bringing together basic and translational research with clinical sciences and practice.

An extraordinary 36-session educational and social event not to be missed.

www.oeso.org

Don’t miss the special social program planned for the OESO Jubilee!